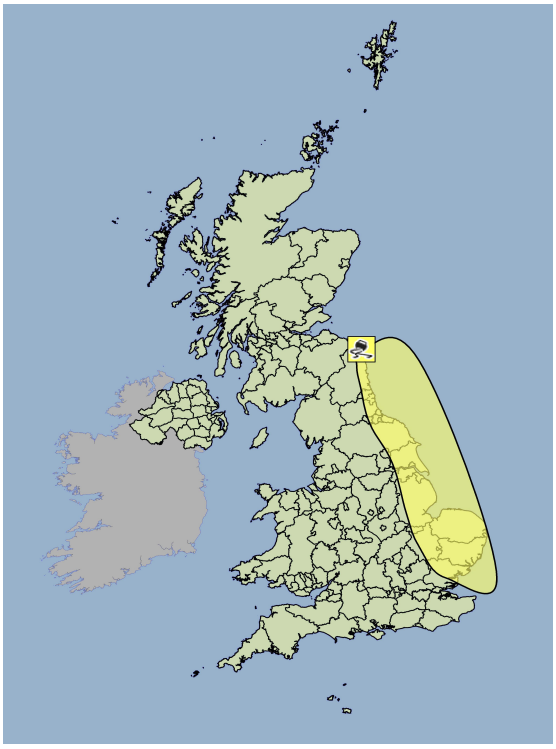
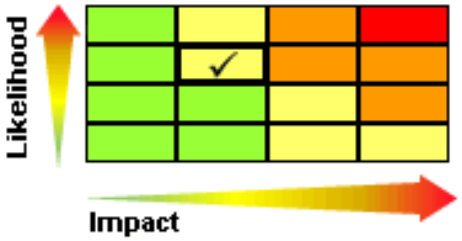
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A northerly flow will bring an air mass of arctic origin over the area. Showers will falls as snow inland and over hills, though may remain as rain or sleet near coasts. However, this increases the risk of icy patches.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Ice

Valid from 12:00 on Mon, 02nd Feb 2015 until 10:00 on Tue, 03rd Feb 2015

Showers of sleet and snow will affect the area, bringing local accumulations of a couple of centimetres, mainly on hills, as well as a risk of icy patches. The public should be aware of locally tricky driving conditions.
